LEADING TEAMS & FACILITATING GROUP PROCESSES

Special edition of the long-term training program

ABOUT // WHO FOR?

This program is based on Via Experientia's organized courses on experiential learning (done all over Europe since 1998) and LeadInn program on Leading teams. We have developed this long-term Training Program based on our experience with experiential, process-oriented training for trainers and leadership development programs.

We are delighted to invite people who are leading people (leaders, managers, adult educators, trainers) to long-term training programme on leading teams and facilitating groups in experiential reflective way.

Targets of our program are:

- to empower you to develop and USE AN EXPERIENTIAL REFLECTIVE APPROACH - in leading teams and facilitating groups;
- To give you a deep understanding of TEAM PROCESSES and strengthen your style of LEADING A TEAM;
- To open and explore essential guidelines for FACILITATING GROUP PROCESSES.

OBJECTIVES OF THE PROGRAMME

- To support participants to enhance their authenticity and their unique style in leading teams
- To train participants in group facilitation and leading skills, such as: reflecting, active listening, mirroring, giving and receiving feedback, etc.
- To familiarise participants with process-oriented experiential learning concepts and practices, which are relevant to leadership and group facilitation.

It is important to emphasise that participants are invited to commit themselves for the full duration of the course.

There have already been 12 editions of Via Experientia long term training programme - 8 of them in international groups and 4 for french speaking community.

This is the special edition organised as a joined project with LeadInn International. LeadInn is experiential school of leadership by its methodology rooted in Via Experientia. LeadInn specialises in supporting leaders, people managers by empowering them create their own unique way to leadership.

The joined project opens the possibility to unite competences from both organisations and it creates the opportunity to have a very diverse group of learners. People from different sectors (profit, non-profit, social, corporate, education, youth work, etc.) and different countries will have the unique opportunity to join the course.

Participants of this special editions:

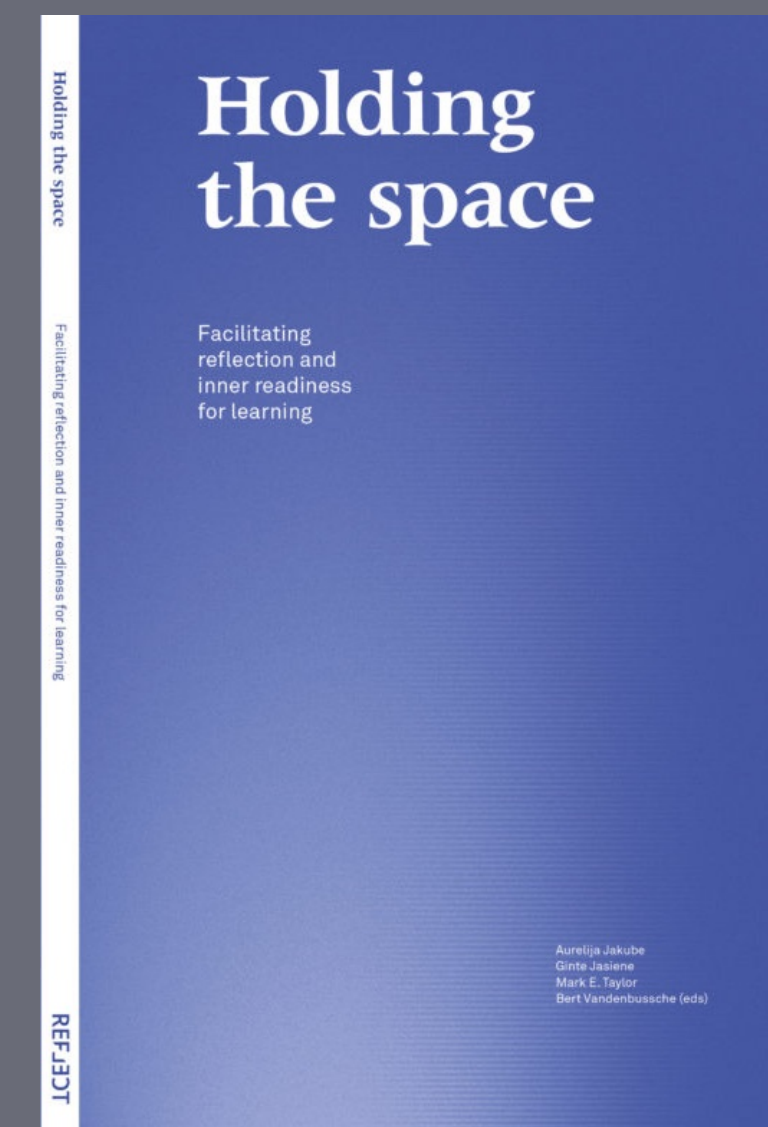

- will have access to the “Alumni Meetings” created for the life long learning of its members, it takes place every 2 years in different countries of Europe.
- will get the opportunity to create their own professional network with other alumni and organisations around Europe;
- To benefit from reduced fees only for alumni for the advanced training workshops organised by Via Experientia and training offers by LeadInn International.

WHAT ELSE?

All partners in Via Experientia including some members of programme team of LeadInn together with 4 European universities have been involved in an action research project which has produced the cutting-edge publication about reflection in learning "Holding the Space" .

“Holding the Space” - facilitating reflection for learning and inner readiness. These new findings enable our courses to really touch what is crucial for facilitating learning processes and for triggering people in manifesting their inner readiness! Available for download from the project's website: www.reflecting.eu

“At a professional and personal level I learned many things about experiential learning, about teamwork, about processing the experience. I became much more confident in myself, my inclinations, I found a stronger balance among my feelings, my fears, challenges, and the capacity to “enter the processes” that I am involved in.”

“Namely I feel more confident and authentic, and I feel capable of using feedback, challenge, and motivate groups.”

“The experience in this course taught me how to understand better the team I am working with. I now know what to observe in their interaction and understand the way my reactions and behaviour affect them.”
